

Ramadan

Helping Others

An aspect of Ramadan is helping others.

Following a discussion about occasions when the children may have helped someone, they can draw and write about their experiences on these sheets.

Helping Others

Draw a way in which you have helped someone...

A large, empty rounded rectangle with a dark green border, occupying most of the page. It is intended for a child to draw a way in which they have helped someone.

Helping Others

Draw and write about a way in which you have helped someone...

A large, empty rounded rectangle with a dark green border, occupying most of the page. It is intended for a child to draw and write about a way they have helped someone. At the bottom of this rectangle, there are three horizontal lines for writing.

Helping Others

Draw and write about a way in which you have helped someone...

A large rectangular area with rounded corners, outlined in green, intended for drawing and writing. At the bottom of this area, there are four horizontal lines for writing.